

BREN-TRONICS ABC CHARGER

//// Problem

Today's operators use a wide array of sophisticated radios and electronic equipment in expeditionary environments. These power-hungry devices create operational inefficiencies by requiring a multitude of disparate batteries and chargers to sustain operations.

//// Solution

Bren-Tronics Advanced Battery Charger is the first of its kind multi-bay bulk charger that adapts to any DoD battery. It can charge up to eight BB-2590s or 16 PRC-152/148 batteries in less than three hours via AC or DC input cables.

It provides a full battery diagnostic while charging, eliminating the need for multiple charger types, increasing mission readiness and battery reliability.

//// Specifications

The Bren-Tronics Advanced Battery Charger (ABC) is a portable battery charging solution that offers next-generation improvements in size, weight and efficiency, while providing selectable power, faster charging times, increased environmental survivability and other significant innovations.

Battery charging capabilities include BB-2590/U, BB-390B/U, BB-2557/U, Conformal Wearable Battery (CWB) and many others. This charger allows users to utilize legacy SPC adapters or new BC adapters. It's designed to quickly and efficiently charge current and future-format military and commercial batteries used on communication, electronics, robots and other tactical platforms.
